Susie Glaze and the Hilonesome Band

Broadway actress and singer, award-winning recording artist and powerhouse vocalist Susie Glaze has been described by Bluegrass Unlimited as "...an important voice on the California Bluegrass scene". A native Tennessean, Susie grew up in the shadow of the Grand Ole Opry, learning the craft of country and bluegrass. New York audiences saw Susie's Broadway debut in the original cast of Roger Miller's musical play "Big River." Since relocating to Southern California, Susie has consistently wowed audiences and has released four great CDs. Susie will be accompanied by husband Steve Rankin, mandolin/guitar; Rob Carlson, lead guitar; Fred Sanders, bass; and Mark Indictor, fiddle. Byron Walls

An influential force in the folk music scene since the early '60s, Byron Walls is an alumnus of The Travellers, Byron and Howard, the New Christy Minstrels, Sandalwood, and The Limelitters. He was a staff writer at Warner Brothers Music, and his songs have been recorded by Emmy Lou Harris, Burl Ives, Glen Yarbrough, The Limelitters, Andy Williams, Ed Ames, Roy Rogers, Ronnie Milsap, Ray Coniff Singers, The Kendalls, and Dennis Weaver. Byron also has two self-produced CDs. When asked what he would have you know about him, Byron said: "Tell them I love to perform. Nothing brings me more pleasure than sharing my songs and stories with an audience. I was a singer and lover of good songs before I ever tried to write one. "...Walls is funny, hip, defiant, world weary, sardonic and even hopeful, but mostly cool and witty." Dave Nathan, All Music Guide Review.
